Howard Community Event and Fireworks Show is September 4th

The Village of Howard hosts a family friendly Community Fireworks Show each year. The 2022 Howard Community Fireworks Show will take place on Sunday, September 4th.

The event kicks off on the Howard Commons grounds starting at 4:00 p.m. with live music from FBI & The Untouchable Horns and a food truck rally hosted by the Green Bay Food Truck Coalition. The Howard Fire Rescue Auxiliary will be selling cold beer with all proceeds benefiting the Howard Fire Department. Face Painting by Lori will be painting faces and wrists, and Joyful Henna Designs will offer henna body art. No Bull Balloon Magic will be twisting balloon characters and animals, too.

The music and activities will wrap around 8:00 p.m., and the annual fireworks display will launch immediately afterward. The fireworks are clearly visible from Howard Commons and all surrounding areas, so spectators should bring a blanket or lawn chair and settle in for the show.

Savoye Salon Spa

Q&A's with Michell Bartlein, Savoye Salon Spa

Mitchell Bartlein

What's a brief description of your business? How long have you been in business?

Savoye Salon Spa has been owned by Michell Bartlein since 2012. It is an Aveda Lifestyle salon carrying and using only Aveda professional products which are environmentally friendly and naturally derived. We offer a high end salon experience that welcomes all who enjoy haircuts, haircolors, facials, body waxing, lashes, or hair styles. We are a Team based salon which puts a high emphasis on company culture allowing our team to create the best customer experience, community involvement, and also incredible career growth.

What is your company's Mission Statement?

Our mission is to lift each other up personally and professionally to create a chain of good in the community and beyond.

What's an interesting fact about your business the community may not know?

We are very modest with our achievements and our contributions to organizations because we simply love doing good in the world. Yet we are super proud of being named recently as a Modern Salon Top 200 salon in the U.S.

What do you enjoy about being involved in HSBPA?

Being part of the HSBPA is a great networking organization when used to its fullest potential. It's fun being engaged in their events and meeting other business leaders in our community!

Favorite product/service you offer at your business?

That's a hard one to answer because I want to say all of them. I will narrow it down to one of our various color services because it's fun to transform and enhance someone's look with hair color! The way it can make someone feel amazing feels like a superpower!

How can people keep up-to-date with what's going on with your business?

Social media and getting on our mailing list that is offered on our website. Instagram: @savoyesalonspa, Facebook: Savoye Salon Spa or www.savoyesalonspa.com.

Fun fact about you that may surprise others?

I am kind of a book nerd, I love to read, research, learn, and write. My original career path was to be a criminal lawyer until life through a curveball and took me down the artistic road of hairdressing. Irony is that being a hairdresser has been the greatest treasure of learning things in every capacity! I hope to write an inspirational book from it all.

Favorite inspirational quote?

"Choose courage over comfort, whole hearts over armor, and choose the great adventure of being brave and afraid at the exact same time." Brene Brown

What inspired you to have your business in Howard-Suamico?

I love what our community offers, our school district, and the support that rallies behind each other. I felt bringing my business to the area created more careers and service options to our growing community. It also brought the opportunity to have an avenue to help others.

When you're not working, where do you enjoy spending time in Howard-Suamico?

I love enjoying fine dining at the great establishments in our community and running or walking on the many nature paths we have.

Howard residents invited to participate in Comprehensive Plan process

The Village of Howard is working with MSA Professional Services to update the village's existing Comprehensive Land Use Plan. Residents and other interested parties are invited to give feedback before the Village Board formally adopts the document.

The Comprehensive Plan identifies future growth projections and provides a guide for public and private development. In accordance with State Statutes, it provides the legal basis for the village's authority to regulate land use and development and will be used by village officials when revising and administering zoning and development ordinances. The plan is revised roughly every 10 years, and the existing plan was last updated in April 2012.

The newest draft Comprehensive Land Use Plan considers Census data, results of the Fall 2021 Village of Howard Community Survey, and stakeholder interviews to identify strengths, opportunities, and concerns as the village faces an expected population growth of an estimated 10,000 new residents by 2040.

Timeline for Plan Adoption:

• Public Open House – 5:00 to 6:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 12 – Residents and other interested parties can view large, printed proposed land use maps, ask questions, and provide informal feedback on the draft plan.

• Public Hearing – 5:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 19 – Residents and other interested parties can provide formal feedback regarding the draft plan. Comments will be on the record for consideration before final Village Board adoption of the document.

• Village Board adoption (tentative) of the Comprehensive Land Use Plan – 6:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 26 – Residents may comment under the Public Appearance portion of the meeting agenda.

All meetings will be held in the Board Room. Enter using the back entrance at Howard Village Hall located at 2456 Glendale Avenue.

The entire draft Comprehensive Plan can be viewed by visiting the Village News section of the Village of Howard homepage at www.villageofhoward.com.

Accessibility ramp project provides greater mobility for those physically challenged

The Howard-Suamico Lions Club is seeing an increase in requests for accessibility ramps for persons with various physical challenges. The Club is attempting to fulfill this need in our local community by designing, building and installing the ramps at the residences of qualifying individuals. Labor is provided by Lions Club members, and materials are obtained through community donations, Club funds and the qualifying individual's contributions.

A recently completed ramp project in the Green Bay area provided Kegen with easy access to his home. His mother, Kate, is delighted with the finished product. "Kegen will benefit tremendously from the ramp, giving him independence, continual growth in his strength, and his overall ability to take the proper steps on the way to his ultimate goal of being able to walk full time with minimal assistance. The overall joy he will experience on his trips out to the school bus and other events that might seem minimal to some, but which are an overwhelming experience for Kegen. You can see it in his attitude, the sense of accomplishment he feels when he does those things on his own with minimal assistance. Seeing Kegen grow is the ultimate experience as his mother. The ramp will not only make Kegen happy, but myself as well, as I watch him join the community setting as a child not with a disability, but with every opportunity to partake in normalcy as he continues his journey. Everyday tasks with the ramp and Kegen's independence will lighten the load of everyday routine tasks that we take for granted, carrying groceries, extra equipment, or unpacking our camping gear [which he loves to do]."

This successful ramp project for Kegen likely would not have been possible if not for the generous funding from two organizations called Options for Independent Living and DIY Home Center. The Lions Club provided the labor for construction and installation of the ramp, with material costs covered by the Options for Independent Living and DIY Home Center donations.

Looking to the future, the Howard-Suamico Lions Club would like to continue to build and assemble accessibility ramps to fill a need in the local community. In order to continue with these important projects, we are looking for donations from private parties or local businesses to help defray the ramp material costs.

If you are in need of this type of service, or can help in any way with funding, feel free to contact Lion Art Becker at akbec@sbcglobal.net or Lion John Myers at johnmyers3206@yahoo.com.

From the Board of Howard-Suamico School District

School District and School Board summer highlights

Summer School: This popular annual program for enrichment, acceleration and remediation of learning was a huge success again this summer offering 118 courses. In fact, the enrollment grew to 3,429 students and 260 staff members to support. Increasingly, summer for the kids is an active time for learning and exploring. Moreover, our students and families are showing that they are interested in enhancing new learning opportunities - and the district is equally committed to supporting this interest. The Board of Education appreciates the staff that supported this program and prepared the facilities for the upcoming school year.

Construction updates: Multi-year facility upgrades began in earnest this spring and will continue well into 2024. The Board of Education has been able to view the construction progress throughout the summer. Special thanks to all of our construction partners and HSSD employees for their commitment to flexibility in adapting to weather, supply chain and schedule-based adjustments. For ongoing construction updates please see updates located on the website at: www.hssdschools.org/community/facilities-update.

School Board Visit to St Vrain: When the Board asked the community in March 2022 how HSSD should focus our resources and planning efforts, the top response was "Better prepare students for life after high school." In June, several school board and leadership team members visited a state of the art career pathway program in St Vrain Valley School District, Colorado. This is an educational program that is nationally recognized as visionary in meeting the 21st century needs of students and families. Exploring other high performing school systems helps HSSD benchmark in support of our vision: "An authentic, innovative, connected and inspired experience for an ever-changing future."

Student apprenticeships: This spring over 150 students at Bay Port showed interest in internship or apprentice opportunities. In conjunction with community leaders, business partners, and the Howard Suamico Business Professional Association, HSSD hosted a job fair. This upcoming year we will be able to provide opportunities for our students to experience real life work experience and receive credit for education. This will allow our students to learn more about manufacturing, professional practices, health care, technology and skill trades, etc. Our students are more career focused earlier and younger so this provides relevant experience and helps our local business partners.

Leadership HSSD: Leadership HSSD is a program designed for those who want to obtain a foundational understanding in district operations, leadership principles, governance, and become more active participants in our schools. Our first group of 35 community members graduated in spring. The second cohort will start this fall and continue through spring of 2023. This program is sponsored by the Howard-Suamico Education Foundation (HSEF) in partnership with HSEF President Bill Hawker and HSSD Superintendent of Schools, Damian LaCroix. For more information about the Howard-Suamico School community service and expertise.

District, please visit our website at www.hssdschools.org, or for additional information regarding this article, contact school board member Scott Jandrin at scotjand@hssdschools.org.

What's a brief description of your business? How long have you been in business?

Our business has been a proud member of the HSBPA for 2 years and a board member for the last year. I think we most enjoy the community events that the HSBPA put on such as the Casino Night. Those type of events not only get the community together for an exciting event but also help raise money for a great cause. The tight knit group of the committee board is something we enjoy being a part of as well because we ultimately want to help our community and all of its businesses grow together by offering advertising options, community engagement and fundraising for good causes.

Favorite product/service you offer at your business?

Being chiropractors and business owners, our favorite service is to no surprise, chiropractic care. However, to be more specific, our office has been lucky enough to work with the VA hospital which allows us to treat and care for veterans which has been a rewarding experience to care for those that served our country. In addition to chiropractic care, we have had a great opportunity to partner with Tammy Jeppeson (Owner of B Massaged) who is now in our office and performs all of our massage therapy needs for our patients' and veterans.

How can people keep up-to-date with what's going on with your business?

The easiest way is to keep up-to-date with our business is following along on our Facebook page @healthinmotiongb or by visiting our website at hmchiropractic.com and checking our event section. On our website we also have a monthly blog post that is both informative and entertaining.

The power of composting

submitted by Mark Walter,
Brown County Port &
Resource Recovery
Business Manager

For many of us, it can be difficult to eat every single piece of food on our plates. Whether you took too big of a serving or you're too full to finish, food waste happens. Not to mention, who wants to try and swallow that banana peel or apple core? Food ends up in the garbage can a little more often than any of us would like.

In the United States, we throw away anywhere between thirty and forty percent of our food supply. When we throw away food, it goes into a landfill and ultimately produces greenhouse gasses, particularly methane. Rather than throwing out food or letting it go bad in a plastic bag (if you don't like leftovers), consider composting, which can help you move toward a zero-waste lifestyle.

What is Composting?

Composting is a natural process of recycling organic matter into fertilizer that can be used later to enrich soil and plants. This means taking the unused products off your kitchen table and mixing them together with natural materials such as twigs, grass clippings, or dead leaves to create a substance that shapes a healthier environment and can be used again for a completely new purpose.

Benefits of Composting

By choosing to compost food waste, you can divert organic materials from landfills and help decrease methane emissions. The nutrients created by composting reduce the need for chemical fertilizers, and it can aid in efforts related to reforestation, wetland restoration, and habitat revitalization. It also can improve the health of soils that are compacted, contaminated, and marginal while enhancing water retention in soil.

Start Your Composting Journey!

While composting may sound messy and complicated, it's actually very easy to do in your own back yard. To start your composting journey, you will need a dry, shady spot near a water source, and three basic ingredients:

- Greens – This includes vegetable waste, fruit scraps, coffee grounds, grass clippings, etc. This element will provide nitrogen to your compost. For food wastes, considering having a collection bin right in your kitchen where you can dispose of and keep the waste until you are ready to add it to the compost pile. These bins, which provide odor and moisture barriers, are available at many stores and online.

- Browns – This includes dead leaves, branches, twigs, wood chips, straw, etc. Browns will provide carbon to your compost.

- Water – This will provide moisture to help break down the organic matter.

Once you are prepared to begin, follow these simple steps:

- First, start on bare earth to allow worms to enter your compost pile. They will help to break down the organic matter. Lay a few inches of straw or twigs on top. If you don't have the space or the place to create a compost pile on the ground, don't give up! There are a variety of compost bin options that will allow you to compost in a location that fits your lifestyle – including indoors. You can find a wide selection at your local garden center or online. You can even DIY a compost bin. There are plenty of ideas on Pinterest, Instagram and TikTok.

- Second, begin adding your greens. Make sure to alternate between moist and dry materials as you layer your brown and green ingredients. Chop or shred up any large pieces.

- Third, consistently keep the compost moist with water, but make sure you don't soak your compost pile. Moderation is the key.

- Fourth, use a tarp to help trap heat and moisture.

- Fifth, use a shovel to help turn your compost every couple of weeks to welcome oxygen into your pile.

- Finally, when the matter at the bottom of the pile has a dark, rich color, it is ready to use! Put it on your flower beds or gardens.

It's really that easy! Like anything else, it can take a bit of time to get your system down pat but once you do, you'll have a continuous supply of great material that will help your gardens grow. And you'll be helping the environment at the same time.

529 Plans: Underused but valuable

submitted by Charlie Rotherham, Edward Jones Financial Advisor

In just a few weeks, students will be heading off to college – and parents will be getting out their checkbooks. Without a college-bound student in your home right now, you might not be thinking much about tuition and other higher education expenses, but if you have young children, these costs may eventually be of concern – so how should you prepare for them?

It's never too soon to start saving and investing. Unfortunately, many people think that they have a lot of "catching up" to do. In fact, nearly half of Americans say they don't feel like they're saving enough to cover future education expenses, according to a 2022 survey conducted by financial services firm Edward Jones with Morning Consult, a global research company.

Of course, it's not always easy to set aside money for college when you're already ready dealing with the high cost of living, and, at the same time, trying to save and invest for retirement. Still, even if you can only devote relatively modest amounts for your children's education, these contributions can add up over time. But where should you put your money?

Personal savings accounts are the top vehicle Americans are using for their education funding strategies, according to the Edward Jones/Morning Consult survey. But there are other options, one of which is a 529 plan, which may offer more attractive features, including the following:

• Possible tax benefit – If you invest in a 529 education savings plan, your earnings can grow federally income tax-free, provided the money is used for qualified education expenses. (Withdrawals not used for these expenses will generally incur taxes and penalties on investment earnings.) If you invest in your own state's 529 plan, you may receive state tax benefit too, depending on the state.

• Flexibility in naming the benefit – As the owner of the 529 plan, you can name anyone you want as the benefit. You can also change the benefit. If your eldest child foregoes college, you can name a younger sibling or another eligible relative.

• Support for non-college programs – Even if your children don't want to go to college, it doesn't mean they're uninterested in any type of postsecondary education or training. And a 529 plan can pay for qualified expenses at trade or vocational schools, including apprenticeship programs registered with the U.S. Department of Labor.

• Payment of student loans – A 529 plan can help pay off federal or private student loans, within limits.

Keep in mind that state-by-state tax treatment varies for different uses of 529 plans, so you'll want to consult with your tax professional before putting a plan in place.

Despite these and other benefits, 529 plans are greatly under-utilized. Only about 40% of Americans even recognize the 529 plan as an education savings tool, and only 13% are actually using it, again according to the Edward Jones/Morning Consult study.

But as the cost of college and other postsecondary programs continues to rise, it will become even more important for parents to find effective ways to save for their children's future education expenses. So, consider how a 529 plan can help you and your family. And the sooner you get started, the better.
